Visit Newcastle's Local Offer by clicking the link above and you will find information, advice and support available locally for children and young people with SEND and their families. The council have put all of this information together in one place to make it easier to find. Here you can also find places to go and fun things to do. Each local authority has a local offer.

Newcastle council also have a Special Educational Needs and Disabilities Information and Advice Service who can offer impartial advice around SEND. Their contact details can be found by clicking the link below:
